Dear Friend of ECOS:

The Environmental Council of the States (ECOS) is pleased to announce an exciting conference lineup for 2018. Planned are a March 20-21 Spring Meeting in St. Paul, Minnesota, and an August 28-29 Fall Meeting in Stowe, Vermont.

ECOS is the national nonprofit, nonpartisan association of state and territorial environmental agency leaders. Because ECOS frequently is asked about opportunities to engage, we wanted to make you aware of sponsorship benefits for these well-attended gatherings, particularly as 2018 budget planning gets underway.

The theme for the Spring Meeting is Getting to Results. Lively discussions among state, federal, industry, and nongovernmental organization (NGO) leaders will center on initiatives to boost compliance, accelerate Superfund cleanups, optimize measures and metrics, promote energy innovation, enhance external communications, work across agencies to achieve results, and more. The Fall Meeting will mark ECOS' silver anniversary with a look back at successes and an eye toward continued progress.

ECOS membership meetings generally attract approximately 200 leaders from state environmental agencies; U.S. EPA, U.S. DOE, U.S. DOD, and other federal agencies; industry; and NGOs. Attached is a listing of available sponsorship opportunities. To discuss sponsorship, please contact Lia Parisien at (202) 266-4931 or lparisien@ecos.org. I extend my sincere appreciation to you for considering support of ECOS' 2018 conferences.

Regards,

Todd Parfitt

Director, Wyoming Department of Environmental Quality
President, ECOS
